POPE PIUS X CONTRA COSTA FINANCES FOR 1914

WORRY OVER EUROPEAN WAR AGGRAVATED BY WEAKNESS FROM ADVANCED AGE THE CAUSE.

Pope Pius X, head of the Catholic church of the world, passed away at the Vatican in Rome, Italy, today, according to a report sent out by the United Press. The Associated Press information this afternoon was that the condition of the Pope was very serious. The United Press report has not been confirmed, but is generally credited on account of the advanced age and recent illness of the Pope.

Pope Pius has been in a critical physical condition for the past week, due to his worry over the warring nations of Europe. The outbreak of the war was a matter of much personal grief to the Pope and he did everything in his power to try and have the peace of Europe maintained.

Since the hostilities began his health has been a matter of grave worry to the Catholic world. Up until two days ago the Pope while holding no audiences has insisted on being supplied with bulletins containing news of the European conflict.

Pope Pius was about 83 years of age and was chosen as head of the Catholic church to succeed Leo XIII.

In accordance with this proclamation Consul General Von Schack of San Francisco has sent out letters to all the German residents in this city stating that the Richmond Liquor Store, conducted by S. E. Reimer, at the corner of 8th street and Chanslor avenue, is to be the relief station for Richmond.

COMMISSIONERS ARE CONSIDERING CAMPAIGN PLANS

Plans for a successful campaign for the carrying of the water bonds at the second election in September are being considered almost nightly by the commissioners of the Richmond water district. The members of the campaign committee have held two sessions this week, one Monday and last night.

Announcement of the plans for the campaign are not being made, the commissioners stating that this will not be done until next Monday when it is believed all the details will have been settled upon. The only statement any of them will make regarding their plans is:

Everybody Passes Buck When Asked to Tell Who Ordered Political Banners Removed

Macdonald avenue as "Banner avenue" passed into the past history of Richmond today. By noon almost every political advertising banner across the main business thoroughfare was taken down and tonight there are several party organizations and candidates who are going to try and find out from the city councilmen why they have been deprived of using the banners for publicity purposes.

All but one of the banners were down by noon and the remaining one was removed shortly after. Since then the police department and the fire chief have been busy answering the question:

"Who ordered my banner taken down?"

Fire Chief LeMoine was the first to be asked to answer as he called attention to this questionable and dangerous form of political advertising at council meeting Monday evening, after Mayor Gargard started his crusade against the posting of political cards on telephone and electric wire poles. The head of the fire department says:

"If I ordered the banners taken down, I did it last night while asleep." He referred all those who complained and all who sought information, to the police department.

At the police station it was declared without qualification that the police knew nothing about the banners except that they were down. If the questioner kicked, the police "passed the buck" by advising that

ARNOLD MAP APPROVED BY BOARD

SUPERVISORS ADOPT IT AS OFFICIAL ONE FOR COUNTY

Declared to be the finest map of Contra Costa county ever compiled, the one on which Ralph R. Arnold, aspirant for election as county surveyor, has been working will be issued within the next ten days. By action of the board of supervisors taken last Monday the Arnold map will be the official map of the county. The county has not had an official map since 1908, the last one being prepared by the late T. A. McMahon.

The new map is complete in every detail. The boundaries of the Supervisory districts are shown as are, for the first time on a map of this county the boundaries of the fifty odd school districts. By referring to other maps, county records and assessor's records, the names of every owner so far as possible has been placed upon his or her property, even to such small tracts as 20 acres and in one of two instances less acreage than that. The reclamation districts are shown and for the first time, an accurate map of the great island country is offered, this being possible by referring to the advance sheets of the government surveys which were made last year by the U. S. Engineers. Every road and watercourse in the county is shown the railroads follow the true directions and the strictest attention is paid to every detail, many of them of such a nature that the casual observer would never note their absence. But in preparing the map, Mr. Arnold and his assistants did not overlook a single point.

Eight months have been consumed in the making of this map, which is corrected up to the first of March, 1914 to conform with the Assessor's records. Realizing the value of such a map the Supervisors have lent every assistance possible and when it was announced to them Monday that the work will soon be over, each member of the board and the county surveyor attached his signature, thus making the same, the official map of Contra Costa county.

The map is truly a sample of the engineer and draughtsman's art, such art as is possessed by Mr. Arnold who is recognized as one of the best, most thorough and most painstaking engineers in the bay counties.

"We have a campaign scheme that will interest every voter in the water district in the Sacramento river water project—that's all that is necessary to carry the bond issue."

CRAZED MAN ATTACKS WIFE KILLS SELF

WOMAN AROUSED FROM SLEEP, FLEES FROM HER INSANE SPOUSE.

Becoming suddenly insane, supposedly from sickness, G. Franzen, an employee of the Bay Point Manufacturing company attempted to kill his wife and baby in their home in Bay Point at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and falling in his murderous purposes, after driving his wife from the room and while she ran screaming to the neighbors for help, he turned the revolver upon himself and with the last bullet remaining in the chamber shot himself through the neck.

It was in the early hours of the morning that Franzen, rousing his family from a sound sleep, drove his wife, attired only in her night dress and holding her little babe in her arms, into the living room of their home. Going to the bureau drawer he seized the revolver lying there and followed them into the room.

The first shot was aimed at Mrs. Franzen, but, grazing her shoulder, the bullet crashed into the wall. Several more shots followed, none of which took effect. Charles Hansen, aroused by the shots, rushed to ascertain the cause of the trouble and forcing his way into the room held the door while Mrs. Franzen ran for help. A few minutes later and before she had returned Hansen heard another shot and then all was still.

When help arrived the door into the living room was forced open and Franzen was found lying in a pool of blood, a gaping wound in his neck. Medical aid was summoned and Franzen lived until about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The Franzen family moved to Bay Pt. about one year ago from Minneapolis, he to take a position in the box factory at the lumber mills. He was 29 years of age.

NEWS STORY MAY REUNITE RELATIVES

MRS. LEOTA KNAPP, 212 10th STREET, THIS CITY HEARS OF COUSIN FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THIRTY YEARS.

A thrilling pioneer story in a San Francisco newspaper may have a happy sequel in the reuniting of two relatives, one Edgar Reynolds, 84 years of age, residing in Tecumseh, Nebraska, who according to California history was among the first whites to settle in Tulare county, and Mrs. Leota Knapp, cousin of the pioneer, residing at 212 Tenth street, this city.

Copies of a paper telling of the settling of Tulare county were scattered broadcast throughout the eastern states with the result that one happened to come into the hands of Edgar Reynolds.

Reynolds immediately got in communication with the newspaper and unfolded a number of facts generally known to the pioneer days of the county.

The article was so well written that it was given a prominent position in the news section and allowed to run with the name of the writer attached to it.

Mrs. Knapp, while glancing through the paper Sunday morning, noticed the article and upon reading it found that it had been written by her cousin whom she has heard nothing of for thirty years.

INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC

Official Paper of the City of Richmond

Editorial Department

"To Observations Which Ourselves We Make, We Grow More Partial, for the Observer's Sake."

BESIDES CALAMITY—WHAT?

The charge that Democratic rule and legislation have caused dull business contains the cue for political workers of high degree and low, which has been passed along the line from the Washington headquarters of the Republican Party. The charge has been proven false; but, manifestly, many Republicans still hope that by continuing the melancholic din they may yet convince the country of its desperate case. But, from the Democratic standpoint, what is there to face aside from these lamentations?

The House of Representatives contains 435 members. Are any 100 of them united upon a program of opposition to Democratic policies and measures that involves anything more concrete than this dismal chorus of dole?

Does one-fourth of the membership of either House propose to repeal the Underwood Competitive Tariff and substitute the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot Tariff of Privileges? Does any appreciable percentage of the Democratic opposition intimate that the new Regional Reserve Bank Act ought to be discharged and replaced by the Aldrich Central Bank or the antiquated banking system which broke down so disastrously in 1907? How many Republican or Progressive politicians will sign their names to a declaration that President Wilson's courageous and determined fight for reform of the anti-trust laws, now being prosecuted at the risk of his health, ought to be abandoned? Should the President, confronted with the evidence of the lobby's sinister activities, have remained silent and thus have permitted the agents of invisible government to continue to do business in the same old way? Do they want Mulhall back again, a secret agent of the Rockefeller banks in the Treasury Department, and Secretaries of the Treasury taking the midnight special for conferences with the chieftains of the Money Trust every week or so? Should the labor legislation of the present Democratic Congress be repealed and the anti-injunction and the contempt bills be withdrawn?

In every instance the answer must be a negative one. The evils which these acts and measures deal with have cried aloud many years for remedies. Other parties and other leaders have talked remedies; the Democrats, entrusted with power for the first time in eighteen years, have provided remedies.

MICHAEL SACKS

There is nothing in this plain homely name to conjure back some fleeting tale of heroism or forgotten element of history. Michael Sacks is not in the "Who's Who" nor boldly flashed on the front pages of newspapers. A year ago, he was not even known in his home city, Chicago, for he was just a plain and, if the phrase is permissible, a less than ordinary boy. That's not saying that Michael today is not a big factor in Chicago and won't be a big man over the country.

Every city needs a Michael Sacks. Michael had to go to work at a tender age but the lack of an average education did not keep him from thinking. He saw all about him men and women planning clubs for city improvement and he saw boys and girls were left out of their plans. He conceived the idea of getting the boys and girls interested by forming a clean city club of their own. One day about a year ago, he called at the Chicago board of health and told of his plan. He won the board's endorsement by his enthusiasm and the board told him to go ahead and ahead he went.

His one aim was to get back of a big movement for a cleaner city and push with all his might, and that's the reason Michael Sacks, the boy with an idea, is winning his way to something big by starting a series of Clean City Clubs among his city's boys and girls.

The plan is a carefully thought out campaign of organization and work. Each boy or girl interested in the work must sign an application for membership, pledging to abide by the regulations in the work of making Chicago a cleaner city and agreeing to do any work assigned by officers of the club. Children from all portions of the city may join, after which the members are divided into neighborhood clubs of 25 members each to insure a more compact, better working organization. Each member wears an attractive "Clean Chicago Club" button and each membership must be endorsed by the child's parents.

Work of the clubs covers condition of streets, removal of garbage, etc. When any member sees an unclean place, he is expected to notify the owner of the property. If the owner neglects to clean up, the club members report to the city health department. All the clubs work in close harmony with the health officials and receive all literature specially prepared by the department while monthly reports are made to the health office by the secretary of each neighborhood club.

There is no limit to the horrors of war. Poet Laurette Bridges of London has hurled eight stanzas at the enemy, running (the stanzas, not the enemy), after this fashion:

"The monarch of ambition
Hath harnessed his slaves,
But the folk of the ocean
Are free as the waves."

And we are expecting every minute, too, that Editor Joe Tracy will bust forth with a bomb like that.

These war dispatches are sure fierce, and are getting us completely razzle-dazzled. About all we are sure of is that millions of people are fighting and trying to butcher each other, though blessed if we know what for. The cables and wireless waves seem to get crossed a good deal, also, or else somebody is putting a whole lot of bull in the bulletins.

The Kaiser and the Czar both commend their troops to the Almighty, while Franz Joseph and King George call upon the "God of their fathers." The Lord can't take good care of all those soldiers while they are doing the Kilkenney cat act.

You must come across according to the demands of the meat and other food trusts now, until President Wilson and the Democratic administration comes to your relief, which let us pray will not be long.

You can sometimes get a substitute to go to war for you, but in the battles of life the only way to get one is to marry one.

MANY WITNESSES AT SUGAR PROBE

United States Attorney Preston, who began an investigation last week into the increase in prices of foodstuffs since the outbreak of the European war, announced yesterday the names of some of the witnesses to be examined tomorrow at the first session of the Grand Jury's hearing to determine whether indictments should be returned. Although most of the testimony will have to do with the steep jumps in sugar, some are expected to tell of rises in lima beans, shipping rates on canned fruits and other correlated matters.

Preston directed United States Marshal James B. Holohan to serve subpoenas on Robert Oxnard, millionaire beet sugar producer and refiner; H. P. Howard, manager Western Sugar Refinery; A. A. Brown, manager California and Hawaiian Sugar Refinery; John Lawson, manager Balfour, Guthrie & Co., and Isidor Jacobs, of the California Canneries. It is also planned to have summons served on officials of the California Fruit Canners' Association, general manager of Goldberg, Bowen & Co. and buyers of sugar and other foodstuffs for the big hotels of the city.

The United States Attorney has received many communications in regard to alleged "gouging" from various sections of the State since the inquiry began, and he stated that he will give every citizen an opportunity to appear before the Grand Jury and tell what he knows. Daily sessions of the inquisitorial body are contemplated during the probe.

SCOW CAPTAIN IS DROWNED

BAY POINT, Aug. 19.—Herman Jacob, the captain of the lumber barge Lou Young, fell off the dock at the Smith Lumber Company yards here about 8:30 o'clock on Monday night and was drowned before help could reach him. The body was recovered later floating on the surface near where the unfortunate man had gone to his death. The remains were taken to the undertaking parlors of Guy Palmer and Ford at Concord, where arrangements will be made for the funeral. The deceased was 45 years of age and so far as known is survived by an only brother, residing in Napa.

BAY GERMANS PLEDGE $250,000

Presidents of the various German societies in the San Francisco bay district serving on the executive committee of the Relief Association met last evening in the German House and reported progress in raising funds to send abroad. The committee reported that more than $250,000 had been pledged in the eighty-four German societies of the city, and that this sum, or even a larger amount, would be available the moment the way opens to send it abroad for the relief of widows and orphans of dead German soldiers. Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary met in the afternoon for a similar purpose.

THE TRIALS OF THE CANDIDATE

The trials and tribulations of the many candidates for offices are many and varied. After successfully running the gauntlet of the candidates' dances, women's clubs, meetings and what-not, the poor aspirant for public honors is now face to face with a more serious problem. It concerns the violation of the city laws and the trouble has arisen in Richmond.

In that city they have an ordinance which forbids the tacking of cards upon poles, likewise the distributing of cards without a license. But every blessed one of 'em has violated the ordinance from the city attorney down to the candidate for Justice of the Peace in a city where the Police Court does nearly all the work. No arrests have been made but Chief Walker asks the candidates to "have a heart" for unless they do he may "get in duteh" with the mayor and powers that be.—Gazette.

"SHABBINES" IS INEXCUSABLE, HENRY"

"WHEN YOU CAN GO TO CHERRY'S"

"It's not right that you should go around looking like a tramp, Henry, just because you are out of a job. The better dressed you are the more chance you have of getting on your feet."

"I had an experience something like yours, but I went up to CHERRY'S, bought a new suit on credit, and the next day I had a position. You come along with me tomorrow to the men's store at 528 13th St., and we will see what we can find."

They did go, and Henry bought an outfit of the latest Fall style. He was somewhat astonished by the remarkable values and had difficulty in selecting a suit. In spite of the bargain, they only asked a small deposit, the remainder to be paid in small installments.

CHERRY'S have a large assortment of durable and stylish clothes for men and women which can be purchased for a small payment down and the rest in small installments. CHERRY'S have two stores in Oakland, one at 528 13th St., between Washington and Clay, for men, and just across at 515 is the ladies' store.

CHERRY'S San Francisco stores are at 1009 Market Street and 2400 Mission Street. —advt.

PRESIDENT SIGNS NEW SHIP BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—President Wilson tonight signed the amendment to the Panama canal act, under which foreign-built ships may be admitted to American registry for the overseas trade. NATURE MAN LEAVES HAUNTS FOR GAME IN THIS CITY SUNDAY

SO KOLDS WHO HAS BEEN IN WILDS OF CONCORD BOARDS TRAIN WITH NOTHING ON BUT A SMILE.

SPECIAL TO RECORD-HERALD
(By SO KOLDS)

CONCORD, Aug. 19.—The following dispatch was received from
"So Kolds," the Nature Man, who has been fighting a battle for existence in Walnut Grove near this town. Today for the first time since leaving, Kolds emerged from his hiding place in company with Professor Hazel Nut and staff correspondent Breezy Notes, and while walking across the baseball diamond located at the far end of the town picked up a Spaulding Blue book.

"I was devoid of all clothing
when I first entered that grove," stated Kolds, "but after having been thrown upon my own resources for a few days I soon found that I could weave a pair of pants from a pear tree, could exist on three inhalations of Mt. Diablo ozone, followed with a drink of fresh water each morning, and could enjoy the sport of kings by watching a race between two snails."

"It was about two weeks ago,"
ing through the dense underbrush bent upon rebaiting several of my rabbit traps, that I happened of a sudden to come out of the forest into the bright sunlight. There stretched out below me lay a field in the shape of a piece of cube sugar, on two sides of it were sloping seats in which a number of beings were wriggling and writhing about. The field contained nine men who unlike myself were clothed in caps and looked for all the world
like boys dolled up in short trousers.

"At the far end I perceived some man who must have been mad for he was wearing an iron cage about his face. Each time that the mad man made a movement a large heavyset fellow, directly in front of him, would have a convulsion following which there would be a loud applause from the wriggling ones
in the stands.

"I watched the contest with great eagerness and all of a sudden heard a sharp crack and saw a white stock-inged player coming in my direction. On, on he came until just as I was about to slip behind a poison
oak vine to keep from being seen,
he stopped and in a graceful manner extended his right hand in which he seemed to grab something from the air. Almost at the same instant I remember hearing the words, 'Hyatt knocks a homerun,' and other slang expressions to that effect.

"Then the crowd began to swarm through the one opening in the fence like ants, and soon everything was quiet again. I watched a few stragglers as they disappeared around a turn and in the road and then started for my camp just as the old mountain above me began to throw its long purple shadows
across the once noisy ball field.

"It was not until yesterday that I realized the important baseball battle which I had the opportunity of witnessing for while making my rounds again I happened across a small placard which had on it large letters, 'Concord will play Richmond a second game Sunday in an effort to get back their lost laurels.'

"Right then and there I resolved to leave my habitat and seek out the professor and the staff correspondent who I intend to inform as to my wishes to see the coming game. And so it was while crossing the ball grounds on my way to our meeting place that I happened upon a book which I found to contain a number of interesting pictures, showing one in particular of the members of the Richmond team with the words underneath: 'Fastest bunch of bay city ball tossers.'

"While busily absorbed in the book the professor and the writer
found me. After stating my condition, I informed them that nothing would suit me better now than my penance had been done than to witness the coming baseball struggle."
"Well," stated the professor, "we had best repair back to town where we can outfit you in some kind of togs for you will have to wear

something besides that smile."

"I refused, for, since my long siege of lingering in the wilderness, Mother Nature and I have grown fast friends."

"But you cannot walk through the macadamized streets of Richmond and to the First street ball grounds in that attire. Why, we would all be arrested," declared the professor.

With that the Nature Man broke loose from his friends and started for the station where he just managed to grab the brass rods on the side of the observation car as the limited pulled out for this city.

As the shaggy top of Kolds' head appeared above the car steps, he was surprised to find that seated in the rear of the observation car were a number of society folk returning from up country summer resorts.

What shall I do, thought Kolds,
as he looked first at his attire and then at the ties which were flying by so fast that they resembled a picket fence.

GASOLINE WORTH MONEY IN LONDON

According to reliable advices gasoline is now retailing at London at $2 a gallon, or a little higher than the market price at that center for a fair grade of scotch whisky. A California petroleum company entered into a contract Monday to sell all its gasoline at the casing head at a uniform price of 6½ cents a gallon. There is a fortune awaiting the enterprising individual who first shows up at London wharves
with a cargo of gasoline.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor,
Color, gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff,
stop scalp itching and falling hair.
Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use bottle, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as
"Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. —Adv.

PRESIDENT'S APPEAL TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

WILSON WARNS AGAINST NEUTRALITY BREACHES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Addressing the American people, President Wilson today issued a statement in connection with the European war. The statement in part follows:

The effect of the war on the United States will depend on what American citizens say and do. Every man who really loves America will act and speak in the true spirit of impartiality and fairness and friendliness to all concerned.

The spirit of the Nation in this critical matter will be determined largely by what individuals and society and those gathered in public meetings do and say, on what newspapers and magazines contain, on what our ministers utter in their pulpits and men proclaim as their opinions on the streets.

I venture, therefore, my fellow countrymen, to speak a solemn word of warning to you against that deepest, most subtle, most essential breach of neutrality which may spring out of partisanship, out of passionately taking sides. The United States must be neutral in fact as well as in name during these days that are to try men's souls. We must be impartial, in thought as well as in action, must put a curb on our sentiments as well as on every transaction that might be construed as a performance of one party to the struggle before another.

"Somebody's Sister" is the feature film to be shown at the Richmond theatre tonight.

It is the same old story of that sense of curiosity which causes a brother and sister to leave their country home and go to the city to live where the brother falls madly in love with an actress. While he is away from home his sister goes out with an artist.

The climax of the play is reached when the artist attempts to kiss the girl, who screams, causing her brother to come to her assistance. He reprimands the artist who reports that probably the girl whom he is going with has a brother who might object to his actions. Other pictures to be shown will be the "Show Girl's Love," "The Perils of Pauline."

RICHMOND PAVING

WORK IS PROTESTED

Protests have been filed by property owners against acceptance of the paving of Richmond avenue, a $140,000 job just being completed by the Warwick Paving company of San Francisco. The H. C. Cutting interests, John R. Garvin and others have made the protests to the city council, claiming that the grade was changed after the contract was let and that some property owners having no outlet to the avenue were included in a district to pay for the work. The council will hear the protests on August 26.

GERMAN LEAGUE ASK NEWSPAPERS FOR FAIR PLAY

ADOPT RESOLUTIONS REQUESTING PRESS TO BE IMPARTIAL IN PUBLICATION OF WAR NEWS.

The following resolution has been adopted by the German-American League of California.

Whereas, the American Nation is composed and has been brought to its present exalted position by the immigration from all parts of Europe, and, whereas, about one-fourth of the people of the United States are of German birth or ancestry, who have done more than their fair share, from early colonial times until now, in securing our liberty, in fighting to preserve the Union, in upbuilding the Nation, in every department of commerce and industry, and in furthering its cultural development; be it

Resolved, That we, as American citizens, insist that the American press shall try to present its information in an unbiased and impartial manner, and that the editorials shall as far as possible be without prejudice or hatred toward any class of American citizens; for this, although an English-speaking country, is not an English Nation, and it is but fair in these trying times that the American spirit of "fair play" shall be exercised to further good feelings among American citizens of every extraction and creed. And be it further the complaint be made to the city council at the adjourned session tonight.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be mailed to the managing editors, the editors and the news editors of every paper in the city.

Councilman Follett advanced the theory that the candidates had taken the banners down voluntarily on account of the complaint made to the council by the fire chief. Martin Jost sustained this opinion by stating that he had ordered his banner removed. This did not entirely dispose of the question for several men sized kinks had been already registered with the police because of the removal of the banners.

In the final effort to ascertain who was responsible—and willing to admit it—a query was directed to the office of the Western States Electric and Gas company. Here the same answer was received.

Finally, however, a man was found who admitted that he knew who had given the order. This was J. S. Bowen, the painter, as much interested as any of the candidates. He said he removed the banners after receiving instructions from the telephone and electric light people.

That settled the question for the present, but the councilmen are apt to be asked to answer it in detail tonight.

WAR VETERAN MAY GET PRIZE MONEY

Thas James Keleher, the proprietor of the candy and cigar store next to the S. F. O. T. railway offices at Twentieth street and Macdonald avenue may receive about $4,000 as prize money is the news he received yesterday when he was summoned to come to San Francisco and claim his share of a prize money earned by the sailors who served on the U. S. Iowa during the Spanish-American war.

Keleher was a member of the Iowa crew when it captured the Spanish ship San Pedro off the harbor of Havana for which he received $500 in 1900. The amount to which he is now laying claim is his part of the Iowa's pro rata of the Atlantic fleet prize money earned when 34 Spanish merchantmen were captured in the harbor of Santiago, July 3, 1898.

WHIST PARTY WILL BE VERY ELABORATE

Perhaps one of the most enjoyable whist parties to be given in some time will be that of Contra Costa Temple of Pythian Sisters which is to be held in Pythian hall on Saturday evening.

A number of valuable prizes have been secured for the occasion which should warrant a large number being present at the affair.

FIGHT BLOODY KNIFE DUEL

JOE GEFANTI HELD AT VALONA JAIL WITH PROBABILITY OF FACING A CHARGE OF MURDER.

(Standard Special Service)

VALONA, Aug. 19.—Domingo Bulampati lies at his home here with his chance of living but slim and Joe Gefanti is in custody at the local prison with a charge of murder impending against him. The probable tragedy was the outcome of a dispute the two men had on Sunday night while on their way home after spending the night out with a party of friends. From a word the angry men resorted to blows and in the frenzy of anger both men drew knives and slashed and hacked at each other until Bulampati fell with three great stab wounds in his body from which the blood flowed in torrents.

He was taken to his home by friends and Dr. Harrington summoned. Gefanti fled from the scene of blood letting and was later discovered hiding in a basement by Constable J. J. Fox. He had the door leading to his place of retreat doubly fastened and for a time refused to admit the officer and submit to arrest.

It was not until Constable Fox declared he would break his way in that the fugitive was induced to unbar the door and permit himself to be taken into custody. Both men are employed by the Selby Smelting works and have heretofore been good friends. Bulampati's condition is such as not to give much hope for his recovery. Gefanti is held without charge. He is also badly cut up about the face and head and was in need of surgical treatment when taken into custody by the constable.

GRAIN SHIPS ARE LOADING

PORT COSTA, Aug. 19.—Ten thousand tons of barley are being rushed into the capacious hold of the big British steamer Harpathian for Liverpool delivery. The steamer came to the dock here this morning and commenced taking on cargo. Other vessels, which have been held in waiting on account of the European war, are now to be sent here to get rid of the enormous store of grain that has accumulated in the three warehouses.

COUNTING BALLOTS BIG TASK AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION

How long will it take to count the primary ballots and get complete returns is the question every anxious aspirant for office is asking. They all agree that their patience will be taxed far into the morning of the day following the primary to learn the results but how long they do not know.

Contrary to the opinion of many voters, the primary ballots will not be of unusual size. They measure 24x30 inches.

There will be six ballots, five party and one non-partisan. Sample ballots are now being mailed to all the voters of the county and every voter will receive one, according to his party affiliation in a few days.

That the counting of the ballots will not be completed on the night of the election is generally conceded and in many of the larger precincts it is believed that the sun will be peeping over the hills before the election officers will be free to go home.

EASTERN STAR ENTERTAINS IN ROYAL FASHION

INTERIOR OF FRATERNAL HALL BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED IN HONOR OF THE GRAND OFFICERS.

The reception tendered the grand officers of the Eastern Star last evening by the members of Miramar and Acantha chapters was perhaps one of the most brilliant spectacles staged in this city for some time.

The whole upper floor of Fraternal hall had been gorgeously decorated in a profusion of cherry blossoms, streamers and lanterns which contrasted to the silken gowns and evening dress suits lent a beautiful effect to the evening's affair.

The guests of honor of the evening were Mrs. M. Partridge, Past Most Worthy Grand Matron, which office is considered the highest fraternal position in the United States, Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Minnie Hiner, Worthy Grand Patron Frederick Kincaid, Worthy Grand Secretary Mrs. K. J. Willets, Worthy Grand Treasurer Mrs. Theresa Strong, Grand Warder Mrs. Becky A. Adamson, and District Deputy Grand Matron Mrs. McQueen.

Places were set for more than 250 guests at the banquet tables which made the affair besides the most elite one of the largest held in Fraternal hall since its opening.

Much credit for the success of the evening must be given to the committee composed of Mrs. S. B. Kurtz, Mrs. Stuits, Mrs. F. Rice, and Mrs. Slattery of Acantha chapter while Mesdames Runyon, Axtell, Hopkins, and Gnaga assisted from Miramar chapter.
